HansDampf I connect – The Innovative Software Package

With immediate effect all HansDampf|gold as well as Compact|PROfessional combisteamer models will be supplied with a USB interface and the innovative software package HansDampf|connect as standard features and without additional charge.

Two new features as the perfect complement for an uncomplicated data transfer between your PC and (one or more) HansDampf appliances.

With HansDampf|connect, the intuitively operated software, you can, for example, compile your individual HansDampf cookbook on the PC and also display, archive or print HACCP documentation – with no additional time required.
